21ST CENTURY SECURITY PRIORITY TECHNOLOGIES

A new standard of architecture and open-system integration

Advanced Comms and 5G.MIL® Solutions

Our 5G.MIL® Unified Network Solutions provide cohesive communications, edge processing and advanced networking capabilities for interoperable, resilient and secure connectivity and data flow across all domains.

Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning

By processing, fusing and analyzing tremendous volumes of data, we aim to give our customers a strategic advantage through AI/ML capabilities.

Cyber

We provide services and build the platforms, tradecraft and tools that are proven to help customers move faster, be safer, improve quality and contain costs for critical cyber missions.

Directed Energy

We are developing laser weapon systems ready to defend U.S. and allied forces, designed to defeat a growing range of threats across all domains.

Hypersonic Solutions

Traveling at Mach 5 speeds (or a mile a second) and above is the new standard. We have been developing highly advanced hypersonic technology for the last 60 years, and are implementing these systems in the world, today.

FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

In times of accelerating change and uncertainty, we have a proud legacy of financial strength and stability. Our 1LMX digital transformation initiative will further materialize and drive speed, resiliency, efficiency and competitiveness across our operations.

ECONOMIC IMPACT

We have 13,297 suppliers – more than 12,300 across the U.S. and 909 around the globe.

We have committed $45B to our suppliers in every U.S. state and 52 countries worldwide.

In 2023, we awarded $6.6B to small business suppliers, representing more than 22% of our supplier base.

SOCIAL IMPACT

We strive to be a leading corporate citizen for our communities and team members. In 2023, we donated over $30.6 million to develop the future STEM workforce, support veterans and their families, and contribute to the resilience of communities where our team members live and work.
